To whom it may concern,

Black Diamond Modular is a provider of work force accommodations. We deliver the best possible modular building solutions across Australia.

To do this we must have excellent partners for ancillary equipment including Potable Water Treatment and Sewerage Treatment (WTP/STP). I have worked with many providers over the past few years but have found none that compares to the service and equipment offered by Remote Water Treatment Services (RWTS).

RWTS previously provided the WTP/STP solution for a Black Diamond camp located in remote Queensland, which was supported by the team in Brisbane, however they are located nationwide and offer impeccable service and support. Black diamond Modular and RWTS are also currently working on proposals for several projects for Western Australia and Queensland.

I also find they're before sales service exemplary when providing quotations or solutions for other projects Black Diamond may be working on.

In summary, I would recommend RWTS to any person or company looking for solutions to water treatment.

Kind Regards,

Ian Richardson
